REPORTER'S REFLECTIONS — In various news reports of public expenditures, readers will have noticed amounts charged to Illinois Muncipal Retirement Fund (IMRF).

Since this occurs in connection with employes whose salaries are paid from taxes, this means the contribution to the retirement fund also comes from taxes.

The municipal retirement fund is to a public employe what social security is to certain privately employed individuals. It operates roughly the same way. For the privately employed, the employe pays part of his social security and his employer matches this amount. For the public employe, he, too, pays into the IMRF and his employer also makes a contribution. In this instance the employer is some public taxing body, hence the employer's contribution is from tax funds.

We thought taxpayers might be interested in some phases of the operation of the IMRF.

We hope no one takes this to suggest that these public employes should not be under the same sort of protection most of us enjoy.

Alfred Nystrom, city clerk, Galesburg, recently was re-elected to serve a fifth term as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, according to Claude S. Holloway, executive director of the fund. Nystrom has been a trustee of the fund since 1943. He was president of the board during 1961 and 1962, and has served as the fund's legislative representative for several years. He was elected by vote of the Illinois municipalities participating in the IMRF program and is designated as an executive trustee. The six other members of the board are: Esther F. Blackburn, Urbana; Catherine Couturier, Waukegan; Charles E. Hastings, Peoria; John W. Kerkering, Quincy; Jack W. Loftus, Decatur, and C. Harris Stevens, Oak Park.

The Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund is the only major public employe retirement system in Illinois which has coordinated with the Sociay Security program. The fund administers social security coverage for approximately 70,000 county, municipal and school district employes in Illinois.

The 1961 annual report of the fund reveals an annual income of $32.2 million per year, pension and other benefit payments of $9 million, social security tax payments of $10.7 million and a growth in investments totaling $12.7 million. The assets of the fund are earmarked to cover $45.9 million belonging to the municipal employes who currently contribute to the fund, $55.3 million for pensioned municipal employes and their widows, and $38.7 million belonging to municipalities, reserved to meet their share of accrued pension costs for present employes.

The investments of the Fund on December 31, 1961 totaled $135.3 million and were divided 40 per cent in U.S. Government securities, 26 per cent in state and local government bonds—primarily Illinois school districts—and 34 per cent in corporate bonds. The average yield on investments held in 1961 was 3.56 per cent.

The annual report shows that over 2,000 Illinois municipalities participate in the Fund. During the past ten years total pension payments have increased by 627 per cent, net assets by 394 per cent, and total revenues by 242 per cent.

Brazilian Marines Board Ship

BELEM, Brazil (AP)—A small detachment of Brazilian marines was reported today to have boarded the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui. The ship was proceeding toward this port at the mouth of the Amazon River.

The Venezuelan government shipping company, owners of the Anzoategui, said in Caracas it had received a message from the ship reporting that she would put into Macapa, at the north entrance to the Amazon, about 200 miles northwest of Belem. All aboard the vessel were reported well.

Four Brazilian marines set out from Belem this morning to board the ship. At the time, she was anchored near an island off the Brazilian north coast.

Heads South

Later the Anzoategui got up steam and headed southward.

Lt. Francisco Mereiros Araujo and three sergeants were under orders to take control of the ship in the name of the Brazilian government.

Presumably, they had assurances from the nine armed hi-jackers—members of a Venezuelan terrorist organization—there would be no resistance.

Estimate Number At 3,000

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has informed the United States that several thousand Soviet troops will be withdrawn from Cuba in the next three weeks, diplomatic informants reported today.

It is understood that President Kennedy's decision to call congressional leaders to a meeting with him Monday nigiht followed that development. The bipartisan group, about a score of legislators, had only two hours notice.

The individuals slipped in and out of the executive mansion, avoiding newsmen. In spite of this secrecy, reports began circulating overnight that there had been some important developments related to Kennedy's known effort to find out when Soviet Premier Khrushchev intended to pull more of his troops out of Cuba.

Estimates

Official administration estimates are that there are about 17,000 Russians in Cuba.

Highly qualified informants said that there was "no deal whatever" involved in the latest development and that the Soviet government had not proposed or demanded any price for the reduction of its Cuban force.

Last Nov. 20, Kennedy received a note from Khrushchev saying that a number of Soviet combat units associated with the nuclear missile and

Scouts Seek Overdue Books; Get Excuses

HEWLETT, N.Y. (AP)—A Boy Scout is trustworthy, but he can't do the impossible.

Still, a Boy Scout is loyal, so he keeps trying.

Eighteen Boy Scout volunteers were dispatched by the Hewlett-Woodmere Public Library over the weekend to scout for 150 books held by delinquent adult borrowers. The boys blazed a trail across this Long Island community and returned with 15 books.

The librarian, Mrs. Walter Thomson, who knows the problems involved in book-hunting, called the 10 per cent immediate return encouraging. The members of Troop 21 vowed to continue the hunt across the four square miles served by the library over successive weekends.

A dozen borrowers promised to look for missing books; three agreed to pay for lost books; two insisted they had returned the books; a dozen were reported away, and doorbells went unanswered at the other homes.

Robert Oscard Jr., 12, son of the scoutmaster, reported a few anxious moments when he was confronted by a menacing-looking police dog at the home of one borrower.

The owner finally came out, calmed his pet and read the library's explanatory form letter.

He told the boy: "Son, I returned that book a long time ago. I think you've got a fine idea there, though. Keep after the others."

The missing book is "Lolita."

Flu-Like Illness Outbreaks Hit Epidemic Proportions

By The Associated Press

Outbreaks of influenza-like disease, hitting epidemic proportions in some Eastern localities, have spread to the Middle West. Respiratory illnesses have been reported to some degree throughout most of the nation.

New York City has an Asian Flu epidemic, but it is not as serious as in 1957 when this particular strain swept across the United States for the first time, said Dr. George James, city health commissioner.

In upstate New York, four 40-bed wards of the Veterans Administration hospital at Buffalo were quarantined because of what a doctor termed an outbreak of an acute, flu-like respiratory infection. It has not been diagnosed as Asian flu. In the Buffalo area, five schools reported 10 per cent absenteeism because of illness.

More than 1,000 new cases a day were reported in West Virginia last week.

Flu-like outbreaks spread in Indiana, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri.

Kansas reported the disease on the increase in counties which include Kansas City, Topeka and Lawrence, home of the state university.

In the Cincinnati, Ohio, area, about 15 per cent of the area's school children were out Monday compared with 23 per cent Friday. City health officials said the flu plague may end quickly—within 10 days.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service said cases have been reported in parts of the South, Southwest, Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

The center's latest report—covering the week ending Feb. 9—includes 707 pneumonia-influenza deaths in the 108 cities which file reports. There were more than 100,000 cases reported this week.

Nations Counter ECM Bar

GENEVA (AP) — Britain and her six European trade partners pledged today to lower trade barriers among themselves to counter the barrier to British entry into the European Common Market.

All seven members of the European Free Trade Association except Austria also agreed not to try to hurdle the barriers French President Charles de Gaulle has put up against Britain's market membership.

Britain, Austria, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and Portugal have accused De Gaulle of turning the Common Market inward and disregarding the worldwide aspects of modern trade.

Austria was excused from cold-shouldering the Common Market because most of her trade is with West Germany—a member.

Weather Forces Cancellation Of Parade for Betancourt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of snow and rain, the White House postponed plans for a ceremonial parade through the heart of Washington today honoring President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela. The parade will be held Wednesday instead.

President Kennedy's official welcome for the visiting chief executive was shifted from the south grounds of the White House to the north portico. Thus the two presidents could meet and exchange greetings under cover.

Kennedy ordered the parade as a special welcome to Betancourt, a friend of the United States and a No. 1 Latin-American enemy of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Big Welcome

En route to his meeting with Kennedy, Betancourt received an enthusiastic welcome Monday when he stopped off at San Juan, Peurto Rico.

Without mentioning Cuba by name, he told newsmen, "as long as the Communist beachhead in America is not eliminated, we will be exposed to the risk of sabotage."

He began his trip as headlines focused on the hijacking of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui, an avowed Communist attempt to discredit Betancourt and his trip.

But U.S. officials treated the hijacking as virtually a closed incident, showing another Red resort to violence. Betancourt, landing at San Juan to the cheers of thousands, publicly ignored the runaway ship.

From Kennedy's standpoint, the two-day Washington visit of the Venezuelan leader underscored a theme he has been stressing in U.S. policy toward Cuba and Latin America:

Although the Soviets have some 17,000 troops in Cuba, the bigger Communist danger lies in Red subversion, sabotage and terrorism throughout the Americas whether Castro-connected or not.

Prime Example

In the administration view, Betancourt now stands as the prime example of how to beat communism in the hemisphere. A constitutionally elected president, he got social reforms rolling in Venezuela before the Alliance for Progress aid program came along. For the past year, Venezuela has been foremost target of a mounting Red terror campaign — including assassination attempts on Betancourt.

In talks at the White House today and Wednesday, to be followed by an official communique, Betancourt was expected to bring up both economic items, like oil, and political topics—mainly Castro and Communism.

Administration Bill Fails In Bid To Pass State House

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—An administration bill to expand the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board and raise its chairman's salary met strong opposition today and failed to pass the Illinois House.

The protests came chiefly from Rep. Albert Hachmeister, R-Chicago, who said penal experts recommend a full-time board.

Rep. G. William Horsley, R-Springfield, who joined in the opposition, said the salary hike proposed for the chairman was too high for part-time work. The bill sought to boost the chairman's annual salary from $10,000 to $14,000 a year and to increase the board from five to seven members.

Changes Mind

Gov. Otto Kerner at one time recommended a full-time board but said last week he changed his mind because it was too hard to attract competent men without hiking salaries substantially.

In other action, the House passed 155-1 a bill to allow a fourth Circuit Judge in the 12th Judicial District centering on Will County. The Senate has not yet acted on it.

The Will County Circuit became entitled to an extra judge by reaching the 280,000 population requirement, as did the 10th, 18th and 19th circuits.

However, it was originally proposed to hold off elections in these circuits to see if the additional judges would be necessary after the new Judicial Article goes into operation next Jan. 1.

Rep. Francis Loughran, D-Joliet, said his district had been promised an extra judge and he insisted it was needed.

The approved bill sets an election in the Will County Circuit for June this year but defers it in the other three circuits until November 1964.

Another Bill

Another bill dealing with the Judicial Article won approval of the Senate judicial revision committee.

It would prohibit establishment of municipal, police magistrate and other local courts this year on the grounds the judges aren't needed.

The committee appointed Roger

Storms Rip Tampa Bay, Fla., Area

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Thunderstorms packing tornadic winds tore into the Tampa Bay area from the Gulf of Mexico today, causing the death of a Wisconsin man, and then lashed into central Florida, where several persons were injured.

At Lake Wales, a tornado swept across a six-block section. An unofficial estimate of damage was about $100,000.

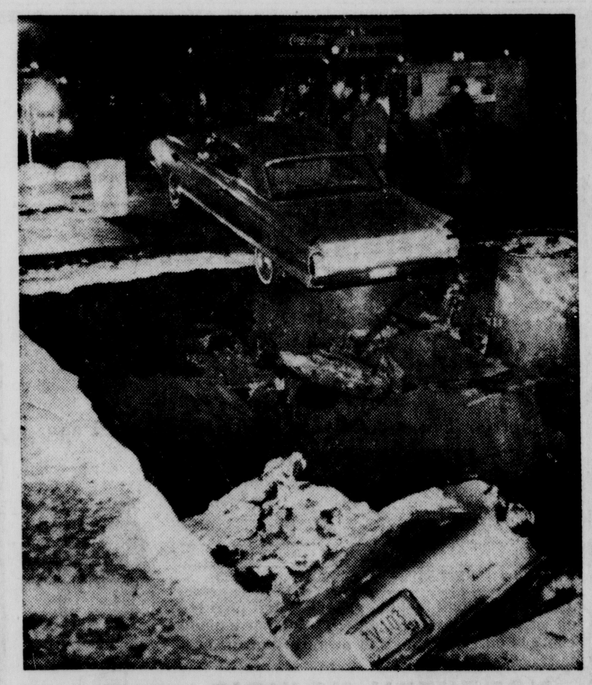
A dozen homes lost roofs, wings, corners or carports. About a half inch of rain fell in 10 minutes.

Wind gusts estimated at up to 75 miles an hour lashed the downtown St. Petersburg area.

Tornado-like winds demolished one home in Lakeland and damaged several others. Ten planes were battered at Drane Field.

A Lakeland house trailer was flipped over several times, injuring a 69-year-old woman.

A small car on the Sunshine Skyway at Tampa was blown 30 feet into shallow water. The driver, identified by police as Carl Bowman of Sheboygan, Wis., was killed. His wife was taken to a hospital in good condition.



THAT SINKING FEELING—The driver was sitting patiently waiting for a traffic light to turn green when the ground suddenly opened beneath his car in New York City. A water main break had undermined the pavement causing the cave-in. (NEA Telephoto)

'Bookie' Pleads Not Guilty

CHICAGO — Frank J. (Bookie) Lloyd, 44, 924 N. Dement Ave., Monday appeared before U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin and pleaded not guilty to two gambling charges, which grew out of an April 27, 1960 raid at 1511 First St. by Federal agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

He is charged with impeding a federal office in pursuit of his duty by forcibly disconnecting telephone wires which had been seized by a warrant, and failure to purchase a Federal Wagering Occupational Tax Stamp.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Ray Zvetina, reportedly said in his opening statements Monday that Lloyd is currently holding a federal tax stamp. This statement caught local officials unawares.

Lee County State's Attorney James E. Bales today said he was checking into the matter and if it is true, he would seek to prosecute Lloyd. According to Illinois law, the stamp must be registered with the county clerk.

Lee County Clerk John Stouffer and former clerk Sterling D. Schrock today said they had never registered a gambling tax stamp in Lee County

The Illinois statute provides for a fine of $200 or imprisonment for six months for failure to register the stamp with the county clerk.

When officers staged the raid, they found Lloyd busy tearing out four telephone wires which were installed in the residence.

Accompanying the federal officers on the raid were five state troopers including Lt. (now Capt.) Raymond Kramer.

The agents seized racing forms, betting slips and baseball pool tickets in the raid.

Zvetina said today he hopes to complete the government's case today. It is not known what action Lloyd will take in his own defense.

Lloyd was arrested by Dixon police in 1951 and again in 1953 for bookmaking. A 1953 conviction was set aside by the Second District Appel-

Women Learn To Make Bread

By PEARL W. BARNES
Ogle Co. Home Adviser

Forty-five Ogle County homemakers were trained in the art of bread making Feb. 14 by Miss Nyla Gorham, foods and nutrition specialist, University of Illinois.

Miss Gorham demonstrated a basic white bread, no-knead bread, batter bread, and a Anadama bread made with molasses and a small amount of cornmeal.

She stressed that the correct proportion of ingredients and temperature for rising and baking are the most important factors in baking breads.

Interest in reviving the art of making bread at home has been increasing.

"Surprise-box" of Toys

Preventing boredom in bedfast youngsters is no easy task. But changing play materials frequently is helpful, especially for three-to five-year-olds.

Another way to combat "sickness boredom" is to provide some play materials that are different from those used when the child is well. Use the child's favorite playthings to further increase the assortment of activities.

Whatever toys you provide, encourage independent play. Often when a child is ill he loses his temper easily and does not play well with other children. Independent play also avoids tying up your time more than is necessary. However, an occasional game with an adult or another child can be a good "break" in the child's day.

One way to introduce suitable activities for independent play is by a "surprise box" of toys to be used only for bed play and other special occasions. What goes into the box, of course, depends on the age and interest of your child.

Whatever you select to go into the box, keep items small for easy handling in bed. Usually items that lend themselves to imaginative or creative play have more lasting appeal than purely mechanical toys. Among the many items that may suit your child are empty thread spools, bits of ribbon and odd trimmings from your sewing box, interesting large bottle tops, old postage stamps and seals and last year's Christmas cards.

A dollar or two and a trip to the dime store will produce such suitable articles as play soldiers, animals and small dolls so that something new can be added to the box each day.

There are other ideas for amusing three-to five-year-olds:

Let the child experiment with a miniature or full-sized flashlight or a magnet and some metal objects. Provide the necessary materials for paper tearing. With a little encouragement from you, your child can create such objects as paper trees, pumpkins and dolls.

Buy a package of inexpensive balloons. Inflate them and tie them to the bed.

Give the child a magnifying glass or hand puppets. If you have a record player he can handle himself, place it along with a stack of his favorite records where he can reach it from bed.

Schools in the United States had a total enrollment of 43.8 million persons, 5 to 34 years old, at the time of the 1960 census.

On the Rural Scene

By JIM SOMERS
Lee County Farm Adviser

We recently commented on the tangible and intangible return from a good college education. Last week at the Lee County Toastmasters club we heard Dave Kentner give a speech on the importance of technical training for those who do not have a college education.

Of course we know many farmers who have given themselves the equivalent of a B.S., M.S. or Ph. D. degree by constant study as they have gone along. While receiving practical experience they have kept themselves informed on the latest research through the extension service they have read periodicals and books, they have talked with and observed other successful operators, they have attended short courses, they have studied the markets. While keeping themselves informed on the things that affect their business directly they have also taken an interest in the things that affect them indirectly such as farm policy, taxes, world trade and exports, politics, foreign policy, community development, and the development of other countries around the world.

In Dave's speech he emphasized the importance of those who are not going to be farmers and who are not going to get a degree in college, of doing a good job of training themselves, vocationally. He cited examples of many good paying jobs that are hard to fill because there are not people who are well trained to take them. A good baker or cook for a hotel or steamship line may command $10,000 to $17,000 in salary. Those who demand excellence are willing to pay the price for those who will go to the trouble of making themselves the best in their field.

Any garageman can verify the need for topnotch mechanics.

We read a great deal about those who go directly from high school to the labor force without adequate vocational training. Vocational schools and apprenticeship in fields where there is a demand for skills will pay handsomely.

Farm Living

By H. H. FULKERSON
Ogle Co. Farm Adviser

We received many complimentary remarks about the Northern Illinois Pork Institute. About 650 people attended. Most of them participated in the entire program.

Donald Walker, extension livestock specialist, University of Illinois, reviewed trends in the swine business and indicated that larger producers were producing a very high per cent of the market hogs. This is largely due to large confinement specialized feeding.

Dr. Burdette Breidenstein, marketing specialist, reported the "cut-out" quality of six hogs which were marketed the previous day. When value was placed on the major lean cuts—hams, loin, Boston butt, and picnic, the value of the hog varied about 2 cents per hundred-weight. He also displayed the cuts and pointed out the variation in muscling of the loins and hams.

Keith Meyers, feeder pig salesman, spoke of the rapid demand for feeder pigs and emphasized the importance of buying from reputable dealers. Poor feeder pigs can lose money for you, fast. He also said, "Don't mix feeders with pigs farrowed on the farm."

Producers spoke in the afternoon and showed the value of swine enterprise in their farming operation. Don Schafer said, "I feed my corn to my hogs and expect them to provide the income for my family." Also he said, "I have two daughters who want a good education. This will mean that my wife and I will have to make some serious decisions while they are going to school."

A grading contest was conducted during the lunch hour. Prizes were awarded in the senior contest to: M. G. Roberts, Genoa, first (off 1.8 per cent); Allan Aves, Kirkland (off 2.0 per cent); and Larry Levine, DeKalb (off 2.1 per cent). In the Junior contest: Richard Johnson, DeKalb (off 3.0 per cent); Emerson Fogle, Leaf River (off 3.9 per cent); and Jim Hoffman, Winnebago (off 4.6 per cent).

Forms are available in the farm adviser's office to determine the advantage or disadvantage of participating in the Feed Grain program. It would be wise to do some figuring. If you do participate, do you want to put in 20 per cent? 30 per cent? 40 per cent? How will it affect your livestock feeding program?

The program this year is slightly different. This is a smaller payment (20 per cent of the $1.25 per bushel support price times yield based on the productivity index) plus 18 cents per bushel of yield. For example: if a farmer has a normal yield of 75 bushels per acre, his diversion payment (20 per cent times $1.25 times 75) is $18.75 per acre plus (75 times 18 cents) or $13.50. This would total $32.25 compared to a payment of $45.00 last year based on $1.20 price support.

If you chose to place any additional acreage, the payment will be based on 50 per cent of the price support loan times the normal yield (62½ cents times 75) or $46.90.

Livestock producers can receive the 18 cent payment and still feed their corn on the farm.

Here are other factors to consider: Can your labor be used elsewhere? Your machinery? How important is the assured income from diverted acres?

Hanging Pictures

The selection and placement of pictures and photographs has stimulated much discussion in the January, February unit meetings as these objects are important room accessories.

Whether pictures score a hit in your home or not often depends on how they hang.

To help you decide where and how to place pictures these guides are suggested.

Hang pictures so that they will help to complete a furniture grouping or attractively fill a wall space. The lines of the pictures should carry the eye toward the surrounding furniture, not away from it. Furniture under pictures should seem to support them.

Let the center of pictures rest at about eye level. If you will generally sit near the picture, its height should naturally be lower than if you will be standing or walking around the area.

Avoid a restless, broken-line look within a room by hanging pictures in a fairly even line. Sometimes it is easier to straighten the lines of the tops or centers than the bottoms. However, it is far more important for a picture to belong to a grouping than for it to be in line with a picture on another wall.

Consider the background where the picture will hang. If the picture is to show up, the background should not dominate. A common way to emphasize pictures in a becoming way is to use a mat around the print.

Avoid a step-like arrangement when grouping several pictures together. This placement often gives a feeling of unrest. On the other hand, a well-proportioned rectangular arrangement usually makes an attractive grouping.

When grouping large and small pictures over one another, place the large one on top. Some art experts say that small pictures should appear to hang from the larger ones like pendants on a piece of jewelry.

Hang pictures as flat as possible so that they seem to be part of the wall. Screw eyes placed near the top of the frame help to eliminate an unwanted "3-D" effect. If a picture must be hung from a molding, use two hooks, one on each end of a piece of fish line, against the back of the picture. This method also avoids diagonal wire lines that are out of harmony with the picture frame and the structural lines of the room.

You can avoid soil marks on the wall behind pictures by putting a thumb tack at each lower corner of the frame on the back. Let the heads project about one-eighth inch. The air will then circulate completely around the frame, preventing dust from collecting.

Controversial Provisions Missing From New Code

CHICAGO (AP)—When the proposed Illinois criminal code is presented to the General Assembly for action, six controversial provisions will be missing, say backers.

The deletions, recommended by a joint committee which prepared the draft, were agreed to by the governors of the Chicago Bar Association and the Illinois State Bar Association.

Prof. Charles F. Bowman of the University of Illinois Law School, chairman of the drafting subcommittee, told the bar groups it would be better for these provisions to be considered separately by legislators.

"It is the position of the joint committee," Bowman said, "that, since all provisions of the code have received almost unanimous acclaim and enthusiasm from the bench and bar of the state, and since the six provisions involved changes in the present law of Illinois on which there are strong and sincere divisions of opinion, it is better policy to delete them from the code and deal with them separately at some future date."

Omitted Monday from the proposed legislation when it gets to the legislature will be provisions which would have spelled out:

—Right of inquiry and detention;

—A provision that silence of a person while in custody shall not be admissible in evidence against him;

—That failure to permit a detained person to communicate with his family or attorney after two hours shall be prima facie evidence of unreasonable detention;

—A prohibition against more than three transfers to separate places of custody during a 24-hour period, and —A requirement that the defense be given a pretrial notice of an admission by the defendant (in addition to the required notice of a confession).

The criminal code proposal is a companion measure to the new judicial code which was adopted by the legislature at its last general session.

Grandfather Attending College

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles H. Hippchen, 69-year-old grandfather and retired executive who quit college to join the Army during World War I, has returned to college and hopes to get a bachelor's degree.

Hippchen, who retired as a furniture company manager in 1958, is taking a full schedule, including three art courses and anthropology, at the University of Illinois Navy Pier campus.

After his retirement, Hippchen attended night classes at the Chicago Art Institute, but later decided to attend school full time. He said he became interested in art while working with advertising designers.

Prof. John E. Walley, head of the Department of Art and one of Hippchen's teachers, said Hippchen had no difficulty fitting into a classroom of his juniors. He had attended the University of Chicago two years before he joined the Army and had majored in physical science.

Jury Closes Books on Peoria Fire

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A coroner's jury apparently has closed the book on the fire that swept through the Mayer Hotel Thursday morning and killed three guests.

The panel Monday ruled the deaths accidental and made no further recommendations.

The jury confirmed fire officials belief that the blaze started in Room 529, which was occupied by a 38-year-old cab driver, David Woodruff.

Woodruff told the jury that he recalled drinking during the hours before the fire and said he apparently had fallen asleep. Woodruff testified that he couldn't remember if he was smoking prior to falling asleep.

Three persons, also fifth-floor guests, perished. They were Peter E. Ryburn, 62; Chester Miller, 72, and James Geitner. No charges have been placed against Woodruff, who turned himself in to police after the blaze.

The jury heard testimony from 11 other witnesses.

The fire destroyed the five-story hotel, causing an estimated $500,000 damage.

Barrow Show Set March 2

Producers planning to exhibit a barrow at the Rock Falls Barrow show on Saturday, March 2, will receive complete carcass cutout information on their hogs. This will include weights of ham, loin and the two shoulder cuts as well as loin eye area, carcass length and average backfat thickness. Each producer is entitled to exhibit one barrow within the 190-230 pound weight bracket. Hogs will be judged live for a Championship and Reserve Championship trophy. They will be purchased on the basis of scale weight on arrival with price determined on the basis of estimated percentage lean cut yield to live weight.

Barrows must be at the show grounds by 10 a.m. on show day to be weighed, tattooed for carcass identification and paint branded for live identification. Each exhibitor will consign his barrow to a commission company from the Chicago market. This will facilitate payment for the barrows with checks issued on Monday following the show from the commission company office. Commission charges will be waived. There will be no expense in selling a barrow. All hogs will be purchased by Chicago Order Buyers for the account of Routh Brothers Packing Co. of Sandusky, Ohio.

Following the live hog judging, there will be a marketing clinic and discussion. This will include grouping the hogs on the basis of estimated carcass yield to emphasize value differences.

At the close of the event all hogs will be loaded on truck. They will be slaughtered Monday morning. Extension Service personnel will assist at the packing house in securing carcass information. Carcass information will be mimeographed and distributed to all exhibitors and to others in attendance at the show.

The Rock Falls barrow show will be held at the Gail C. Rogers sale barn just off Rt. 88, near the airport, south of Rock Falls. Entry blanks are available at the farm advisers office. To secure one, write to Box 119, Amboy or call 137 Amboy.

This event is sponsored by the Chicago Stock Yards Market Interests in cooperation with the University of Illinois Extension Service, the Illinois Swine Herd Improvement Assn. and the Illinois Livestock Feeders Assn.

Similar shows are being held at Pecatonica on Feb. 23 and at Kewanee on March 16.

Some 18,000,000 school children across the world get a daily CARE lunch or glass of milk.

Shuman Declares Farm Bureau Opposes Controls

CHICAGO (AP) — A national farm leader said today it may come as a surprise to many "that the American Farm Bureau has been seeking legislation to move away from government controls, price fixing and subsidies."

Charles B. Shuman, American Farm Bureau Federation president, said his organization is moving toward the market price system as a means of achieving improved income.

Shuman, in an address prepared for a Chicago Rotary Club meeting warned that increased government spending for farm programs by the Kennedy administration is not "in the best longtime interests of agriculture or the national economy."

"The Farm Bureau," Shuman said, "recently called for a cut of $1 billion in appropriations for the U.S. Department of Agriculture through elimination of the present feed grain and wheat programs, the establishment of more realistic price supports for cotton and wheat and a reduction in the administration's proposed authorization of funds for disposal of surplus farm commodities under public law 480.

"The Farm Bureau also has announced its opposition to a tax cut unless earned by a cut in federal spending."

"About three-fourths of the total agricultural budget is being used for price support and control plans and surplus disposal under the Food for Peace program. The most unfortunate part of this gigantic spending spree is that it has failed to solve America's farm problem of balancing supply and demand. Instead, we have piled up unwanted surpluses and lost markets to synthetics and foreign competition."

Shuman, of Sullivan, Ill., said the forthcoming national wheat referendum late in May "is the decision point on the direction agriculture will take in the years ahead."

Ralph Capone Put Out of Business

CHICAGO (AP) — The Bureau of Internal Revenue and a federal judge has put Ralph (Bottles) Capone, brother of the prohibition era sultan Al Capone, out of business.

James O'Brien, U.S. district attorney, announced Monday IRS agents were using 20 trucks to collect 212 vending machines from various Chicago night clubs and taverns. The machines represent part of the assets of Ralph Capone's cigaret-vending company.

The action was being taken after Judge Joseph Sam Perry of U.S. District Court ordered the seizure and sale of the company's assets as part payment of income taxes, as requested by IRS.

Assets of the company—the Suburban Cigaret Service in Brookfield—were valued at between $44,000 and $48,000.

Forage Day March 12 In Amboy

Forage samples for analysis are are now coming into the farm adviser's office. The results will be made available at the Forage day and show to be held at the 4-H Center on March 12. The extension service of Lee, Bureau, Whiteside, Ogle and DeKalb Counties are cooperating in this event.

Ralph Salzman, Lee County Extension Council chairman, is general chairman of the event. Carlton Gusse, chairman of the Extension Agronomy Committee is in charge of hay and silage exhibits.

Samples will be analyzed for protein. The cost of analysis will be $2 per sample. The usual cost is $6.50 for these tests.

Farmers are asked to bring samples of about a quart of hay silage, or haylage to the farm advisers office before Feb. 25. Silage or haylage should be in a sealed fruit jar or plastic bag. These same farmers are asked to bring about a half bushel of the same forage to the 4-H Center the day of the show for exhibit. Please do not bring the exhibit samples to the office because they will dry out too much. Have samples for analysis labeled with name and address.

Three extension specialists from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture will appear on the program. They will discuss the production and handling and economics of forage crops.

Prince Andrew Celebrates Birthday

LONDON (AP)—His Royal Highness Prince Andrew, second in line to the British throne, celebrates his third birthday today with Whisky, Sherry and his current girl friend.

Whisky and Sherry are two of Queen Elizabeth's Corgi dogs and the prince has developed a deep affection for them.

Prince Andrew also has developed a strong attachment to Jane Gilmour, 3, daughter of Conservative legislator Ian Gilmour.

She is a member of his dancing class and a frequent visitor to the palace nursery.

About a half dozen guests, mostly members of his dancing class, are invited. Shortly after 4 p.m. they were to sit down to cakes, jelly and cookies, in the green-walled nursery of Buckingham Palace.

Princess Ann, 12, Andrew's sister, was to join the youngsters and watch Andrew blow out the candles on the cake baked in the palace kitchen.

She was not likely to stay long. Most of the guests are only 3 or 4 years old and this was the evening of Anne's Girl Scout meeting, anyway.

A present—its contents a secret—arrived for the prince from Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, who are touring Australia.

Legion to Meet

Dixon American Legion Post will hold a meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

WORLD BRIEFS

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Australia will participate in an agreement between the United States, Britain and Canada aimed at standardizing military procedures and equipment.

The arrangement, known as the A.B.C. agreement, has been in operation since World War II.

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly approved 271-171 today a bill extending the life of the special military court trying a group of men charged with attempting to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle last August.

The life of the court would have expired Feb. 24. The bill extends it until the trial ends.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today "it is not considerable desirable at this stage" to move the Indian army into areas vacated by the Communist Chinese.

He said any such move "must be backed by force."

The Chinese have said they would resist any move by Indian troops into areas from which the Chinese have withdrawn since the October-November fighting.

HORG, Norway (AP)—When the home of Trygve Naess caught fire Sunday morning, the Horg fire company ran out of water.

The house next door was threatend. Volunteer firefighters threw snowballs on the walls to keep them from igniting.

coastal town of Amapa. There, they were to have boarded a boat for the short trip to the Anzoategui, which had anchored off the island of Maraca.

In Washington, the Defense Department reported, however, that the ship was under way this morning, staying close to shore. It said that the Anzoategui was 70 miles from the island and proceeding southward toward Belem. This port is about 240 miles south of Maraca.

The hijackers have been promised asylum in Brazil, an action expected to bring strong protests from Venezuela.

Chief Aim

Their chief aim—to prevent President Romulo Betancourt's trip to the United States—was thwarted. He went ahead with the trip, saying the Venezuelan people and armed forces back his regime.

The Brazilian marines were under orders to take control of the ship pending the arrival late tonight or early Wednesday of a Brazilian navy corvette carrying marines to escort the Anzoategui 240 miles down the coast to Belem at the mouth of the Amazon River.

There was speculation that the ship had halted off northern Brazil because it ran out of fuel or had engine trouble. The Brazilian navy is under orders to seize the ship. The navy has said the future of the hijackers—members of a Venezuelan terrorist organization— would be left to the Brazilian Foreign Ministry.

U.S. craft, hovering outside Brazilian territorial waters, kept the Anzoategui under surveillance but made no attempt to arrest it.

The House passed and referred to the Senate a bill by Rep. Gale Williams, R-Carbondale, to give Illinois firms preferential treatment in state purchases of food for institutions.

The bill would require acceptance of an Illinois bid if it was within five per cent of a bid by an out-of-state firm.

Kerner said last week he was against such proposals, contending they put barriers around the state and that the trend is to work in harmony with neighboring states.

Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh, R-Champaign, said the state is required to take the lowest bid wherever it comes from.

Two weeks ago Kennedy recalled this at a news conference as he sought to deal with mounting congressional criticism, particularly Republican criticism, of his Cuban policies.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and others have claimed a serious Communist threat continued in Cuba because of the presence of Soviet combat forces.

Not Known

The number of troops which would be withdrawn under the new Kremlin assurance was not precisely known but speculation turned on the point that several thousand would mean by definition at least 3,000 and that the total could be quite a bit more than that.

Special concern—particularly in criticism of administration Cuban policy here—has focused on approximately 5,000 heavily armed combat troops organized into four mobile battalions.

The Congress members who met with Kennedy declined for the most part to talk with newsmen at any length about the session.

Sen. Dirksen Gets Vacancy

Mildness Continues In State

By The Associated Press

Wet and foggy weather covered many sections of the nation today with sleet and snow in parts of the Southeast.

Cloudy, mild weather stayed on in Illinois today. Temperatures ranged in the 40s and 50s.

It was foggy in the morning along the Lake Michigan shoreline, and Chicago had a glum, damp air with a little light drizzle from the low clouds.

Some arriving traffic was diverted from O'Hare International Airport to Midway Airport in the early morning as the ceiling lowered to less than 200 feet and visibility fell to one-half mile.

Another relatively mild night was in prospect, with low temperatures in the 30s expected.

A low pressure system in northwest Florida moved northeast and set off general rains and thunderstorms in the Gulf region.

Sleet pelted parts of northern Georgia and Alabama and sleet mixed with snow fell in Tennessee and along the Tennessee border. Rain and snow was reported in Memphis and Chattanooga, with snow in Nashville.

No severe cold was reported but the mercury edged near zero in northern sections of the upper Mississippi Valley. A flow of southerly warm air brought a sharp rise in temperatures in International Falls, Minn., one of the nation's cold spots. It was 17 below zero at midnight but four hours later the mercury reached 16 above, a climb of 33 degrees.

The freezing line extended from the northern Plains across the upper Mississippi Valley and the upper Great Lakes region. Readings in other parts of the country were mostly above normal, ranging from the 30s in northern regions to the 70s in southern Florida.

'Oklahoma' Next DHS Production

"Oklahoma" has been chosen for the spring musical production by the choral and dramatic departments of Dixon High School, according to James Wiltz, DHS choral director, and Richard Boyer, DHS dramatics director.

The musical will be presented May 3 and 4.

Preliminary casting for the musical will be held March 11 and 12, with the final casting March 13.

"Oklahoma!" was first produced by the Theatre Guild on April 1, 1943, at the St. James Theatre, New York City, and in London it was first produced at the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, on April 30, 1947.

"Oklahoma!" has such songs as "Oh What a Beautiful Mornin'," "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top," "People Will Say We're in Love," "Out of My Dreams," and "Oklahoma!".

County Roads To Be Posted

Lee County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake today asked all users of the Lee County roads to remember that the spring thaw may be just around the corner. Leake said when the thaw begins, all roads in the county will be posted for a maximum load limit of six tons. The superintendent pointed out this means the combined weight of the load and truck.

Leake said the roads will be posted some time between March 7 and April 20, depending upon the weather conditions.

The superintendent also said such posting would probably create hardships upon milk trucks, school buses, livestock haulers and other farm services, but he asked the law be obeyed. Leake said there would be no exceptions to the 12,000 pound load limit.

Discuss Rail Crossing Safety Devices

ROCHELLE—Members of the Rochelle City Council met Monday night with Illinois Commerce Commission representatives, local highway officials and railroad officials to discuss the requested installation of warning devices at the East First Avenue railroad crossing near Rochelle.

Spokesmen for the ICC, James Parker and Harry Stearn, said they would recommend the installation of both automatic signal lights and gates which would cost an estimated $35,000.

The city of Rochelle would pay 10 per cent of the cost, 10 to 15 per cent would be paid by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad and the remainder financed by the state.

Mayor Paul Jones said that CB&Q Railroad crewmen have been ordered to stop blocking crossings in Rochelle for long periods of time. Several complaints have been made in recent weeks regarding trains blocking crossings in Rochelle.

Miss Harris Is Bride Of Oliver Schriner Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harris, Sterling, former Dixon residents, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lynn Bally Harris, to Oliver Schriner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Schriner Sr., Whittier, Calif.

The couple exchanged vows Jan. 29 in a single-ring wedding performed in Sterling's General Baptist Church by the Rev. Carlos R. Downey, pastor of the church.

Miss Carol Ann Harris, as her sister's maid of honor, was attired in a gold and brown costume accented by accessories of gold and she carried an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and lilies-of-the-valley. Wendell Harris Jr., brother of the bride, attended Mr. Schriner as best man.

Escorted to the church altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white brocaded satin designed with a scooped neckline edged with white fur. Her accessories were white and a bandeau of white flowers held her illusion veil. White and lavender carnations were used in her cascading bridal bouquet.

Arrangements of lavender sweet peas and white wedding bells trimmed the lace-covered table arranged for a reception held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The table's centerpiece was a tiered wedding cake topped by miniature figures of a bridal couple and decorated with sweet peas.

The new Mrs. Schriner was guest of honor at a post-nuptial shower given in Sterling by her sister when Dixon guests included Mrs. Vernet Stafford, the bride's grandmother; Mrs. Edward Stafford, Miss Margaret Ann Stafford, Mrs. Grace Embick and Mrs. Joseph Lybarger. Other party guests were from Rock Falls, Sterling and Mt. Morris.

Variegated pink and white carnations and white bells trimmed the gift table for the shower, and an arrangement of lavender sweet peas formed the centerpiece for the refreshment table.

The newlyweds traveled through the western states on their wedding trip en route to California where they are now residing.

Art Works of Mr. Handell Are On Exhibit in Loveland Gallery

Dixon's Phidian Art Club has arranged a new exhibit in the gallery of Loveland Community House which includes 23 oil paintings done by Arthur C. Handell, Dixon artist.

Mr. Handell came to Dixon in 1909 from Washington to attend Dixon College where he studied commercial art and ornamental and business penmanship in classes taught by Prof. K. L. Goodall. Following his graduation from the college, he taught in Dixon before accepting a teaching position with the Chicago Business College. Returning to Dixon, Mr. Handell became a painter and decorator until an accident in 1933 forced him to discontinue his business. During a period of convalescence, he became interested in oil painting, and although he has never had formal training, he derives satisfaction and pleasure from his hobby and enjoys concentrating a variety of subjects.

Country Charm

True country charm is prevalent in a painting shown in the exhibit which Mr. Handell calls, "Way Back When," and the snow capped mountains of Washington and Oregon are depicted in three attractive paintings of Mt. Sacajawae, Mt. St. Helens and Mt. Rainier.

"Well Earned Rest" is the clever title bestowed on an interesting work showing a discarded hand plow left in a field, and another called "The Last Elm," is a stark and simple painting of a barren tree on the grounds of Dixon's North Central School following the removal of the old school buildings.

"Head Waters of the Mississippi River and Lake Itasca," where the artist has visited many times, is a colorful scene and another called "White Sands of New Mexico," is done in whites and blues. It is a scene visited by the artist in 1932, and shows the white sands and sparse vegetation blending with variegated blues used in reproducing the sky.

Dutch windmills provide the interesting pattern of a painting called "Holland," and another is of a farm scene in the Netherlands. "Deserted" is the title given a rural landscape which includes an unoccupied farm house, a red barn and a snow-covered bridge.

A realistic use of oils is most prevalent in a large painting Mr. Handell calls, "Flaw in the Title," which clearly tells the story of a quizzical elderly couple visiting the office of a lawyer who is shown pointing out a flaw in the document they have asked him to examine.

Portraits

Portraits of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, in identical frames and hanging side by side, occupy a prominent place in the showing. Both figures are painted in meditative poses, with Washington wearing Army attire and Lincoln in the typical shawl and high hat. Other portraits of the two presidents and of Presidents Jefferson and Madison created by Mr. Handell, have been presented to the four Dixon elementary schools bearing their names.

"Indian Love Call," done in strong, vibrant colors; "Joy of Winter," showing skaters on a frozen pond near a secluded farm house, and "Split Rail Fence," a landscape in autumn tones, are other works offering evidence of Mr. Handell's artistic talents.

Loveland Community House visitors are invited to view the public exhibit which will remain in the gallery during coming weeks under the auspices of the Phidians.

Challenge on Home Front

These days the world struggle against communism dominates the federal budget, consumes 80 per cent of the President's time, preempts the thoughts of millions of citizens as international matters never did in decades past.

Our very survival can hang in the balance as vital decisions are made. The strength of our free world alliances is under constant test. The race to beat our adversaries in space commands our highest resources. The future independence of peoples struggling upward may hinge on what we do.

Yet it is misleading to suggest from this that those decisions which affect principally the domestic sphere of life are by comparison easy choices.

A notion seems to be afoot that, not simply on the surface but in reality, our home front arguments are almost wholly over money. Programs bearing on housing, education, welfare, highways and the like revolve largely around how much to spend.

But some thoughtful appraisers of 1963 America are venturing to suggest that our decisions in these fields need to be invested with much more qualitative judgment than they are getting.

For example, we are spending not much less than $4 billion in federal funds this year for our interstate highway system. That is a fair-size piece of the U.S. cash budget.

The decision to spend sums of such size on U.S. highways was made years ago. But was it the only crucial one?

Around one big eastern city a complete belt highway now serves motorists. Around another, a similar belt is partially finished. But already skeptics are saying it should have been designed for eight lanes rather than six, to meet rising traffic loads.

At a recent session of the Highway Research Board, which studies a broad range of highway problems, Charles Zwick of the Rand Corporation suggested in a paper that transportation systems for tomorrow can be properly conceived only if some very refined judgments are made.

It is not enough just to make projections of future population, numbers of cars expected, and so on.

What kind of dwellings will people be living in? What changes will occur in the make-up of industry? Will people have more time for recreation? Will their current urge for privacy in transportation (the automobile) continue or diminish?

Engineers may argue persuasively about ways to move large numbers of people cheaply and effectively. But before vast sums are laid out, says Zwick, we had better know what people really want, where they will in fact wish to go in leisure time and where they will have to go in work hours.

The immense traffic burdens which often descend quickly upon "highways of the future" suggest that some of these matters are being foreseen only dimly.

Domestic concerns are in the background today. Yet their complexities, properly weighed, are hardly less challenging than those of the international scene.

Hal Boyle Opens His Mail Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The price of America's business merit badge—the ulcer—comes high. Some 49,000 victims are absent from the job each work day.

Some style experts say U.S. women's waists are growing more than their bust and hip measurements. Fascinating possibility: In another generation our girls may have a straight up and down look—like walking flower boxes.

The FBI never rests. J. Edgar Hoover's agents add about 21,000 fingerprint sets to their files daily.

Howard Ketcham, industrial color consultant, advises business employes to wear colored shirts during the day and save their white shirts for evening wear. "A man in a colored shirt looks like he's ready to roll up his sleeves and go to work," he says. Well, if it'll help impress the boss—!

Some fashion advisers hold that girls dressed in pink are most attractive to men. I doubt this. My theory is that men prefer girls in red, blue and yellow dresses.

Things can't be getting so much worse. According to government figures, the suicide rate has only risen half of one percentage point since "the gold old days" of 1900.

The last park census showed New York City had 2,341,497 trees—or better than one for every three persons.

A fat man can lose up to half a pound merely by moving from Washington, D.C., to Quito, Ecuador, where the altitude is much higher.

Americans traveled an average of 4,100 miles last year—1,000 miles more than they did a decade ago.

Arlene Frances has a passion for sun glasses, keeps a variety of pairs to go with different outfits. Sophia Loren has the problem of keeping both her shape and her enthusiasm for spaghetti. Brigitte Bardot is now the leading pin-up girl among U.S. prisoners—and college boys.

"A new $800 car is promised. You don't park it. You just drive to your destination—and abandon it." —Arnold H. Glasow.

Only two presidents have lived to celebrate their golden wedding anniversaries. They were John Adams, married 54 years and 3 days; and his son, John Quincy Adams, 50 years, 112 days.

It was Israel Zangwill who observed: "A man likes his wife to be just clever enough to comprehend his cleverness, and just stupid enough to admire it."

Ruth Millett

There are a lot of things you would like to learn more about, but you think you are too old to go back to school—you are in your 60s or 70s. Nonsense.

According to a nationwide survey recently made by Dr. H. Lee Jacobs of the University of Iowa, 10 per cent of all students enrolled in adult education courses are over 65.

There's no reason why the number of students over 65 shouldn't keep on growing, since those are the years of retirement when there is plenty of time for study.

If you are already up in years, what will going back to school do for you?

Here are some listed by educators:

"Improvement of old skills and acquisition of new ones, new feelings of usefulness, new friendships formed, more creative use of leisure, improvement in personal appearance, increased prestige and status, greater self-confidence, continued intellectual growth."

What other course of action can you think of that would offer you so many advantages? Instead of letting your mind grow rusty, your days grow long from lack of anything worthwhile to do with your time, why not try going back to school to sharpen your mind and widen your interests?

As Dr. Kent points out: "Learning is not just for the young, it is for everyone." Find out what the opportunities for adult education are in your own community and then get busy taking advantage of them.

RIOTING LUDDITES

Luddites was the name given to organized bands of English rioters for the destruction of machinery. These bands first appeared around Nottingham in 1811, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

HOBBY IS WHALES

CARTERET, N.J. (AP) — William Stokes' hobby is carving wood into models of whales, restoring antiques from the early days of American whaling, etching pictures in whalebone and reading about whales.

His basement is filled with pieces of bones from the teeth and skeletons of whales. He has fashioned a three-foot model of Moby Dick from a chunk of pine, complete to the pupils in the eyes.

Stokes, a former Texan, has never seen a live whale.

It's Nice to Have Friends

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for NEA

Q—In your answer to a question about stuffiness of the nose, you advised using nose drops or sprays that will not interfere with the action of the cilia. Could you give me the names of some of these?

A—If your trouble is chronic and not due to an allergy, one of the phenylephrine preparations should help you. Consult your doctor for proper strength and method of use.

Q—What is the cause of retinitis? Is there a cure?

A—Retinitis is an inflammation of the retina which lines the back of the inner surface of the eyeball. This surface transmits visual images to the brain. Retinitis usually causes a decrease in the range and acuteness of vision. There are a variety of causes which include nephritis(kidney disease), diabetes, leukemia, arteriosclerosis with high blood pressure, and exposure of the retina to the direct rays of the sun. Treatment of the underlying cause is of prime importance. It is generally necessary to protect the eyes from light, by using smoked glasses and eyedrops that contract the pupils.

There is a special kind of retinitis called pigmentary degeneration of the retina. In this hereditary condition the sight is very poor at night and the range of vision is greatly restricted. The condition is progressive. Although many kinds of treatment have been tried, all have proved disappointing.

Q—I am a housewife, 64. I bruise very easily. The bruises look terrible, although they do not hurt. What would cause this? Is there any remedy?

A—In a younger person this is often caused by a deficiency of vitamin C. This could be true in your case, but as we grow older other causes must also be considered. For example: as the skin becomes less elastic, if the capillaries are damaged by being bumped, blood oozes out more readily than in a younger person.

This is apparently more common in women than in men, and sometimes the bump that causes the damage is so slight that the person is totally unaware of it until the bruise appears beneath the skin.

Q—A friend of mine claims that her alfalfa tea has life-giving properties. Is there any food value in alfalfa?

A—Faith is a wonderful thing, and alfalfa is a wonderful food for some domestic animals. Like many other plants, it contains some vitamins and very few calories. Cabbage, cauliflower, and soybeans are better sources of the vitamin K found in alfalfa.

Some people are just crazy about alfalfa tea and it is in no way injurious to drink, but I would be very skeptical of any claims that it can provide great special benefits. The same goes for the so-called health foods that contain alfalfa as one of their ingredients.

Q—I am a 66-year-old man. About a year ago I had a cancer removed from my bladder. Since then my doctor has been giving me female hormone shots. Is this a recognized method of treatment? How long should it be continued? Does it have any bad effects?

A—This is a recognized means of preventing the early return or spread of cancer of the bladder. Your doctor will adjust the dosage so that there will be no undesirable side effects of any importance. This treatment should be continued indefinitely.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently we lost our little girl. We have two married daughters and a teenage son. This wee one was like a gift from heaven because she came so late in our lives.

I'm trying desperately to get over my heartbreak but our friends are making life unbearable. Within a week of the funeral they came in packs to ask if I had any clothing or toys "left over" for their nieces, nephews and grandchildren. Of course I didn't — we sent everything to the Children's Home immediately.

Yesterday a friend brought over her grandchild who is the same age as the little girl we lost. The woman said, "I thought Vicki could be a substitute for your own little girl today."

What in heaven's name is the matter with people that they have such poor judgment? Please tell me what to do. — HEAVY HEARTED

Dear Heavy Hearted: Where did you find these brainless dolts? I would not call them friends. For the sake of your own mental health I hope you will soon build up the courage to tell them how you feel.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: So — "Understanding Mother" thinks it is just fine for a 14-year-old boy to be playing kissing games, does she? She also seems to think kids who don't go along with the gang might develop an inferiority complex. Well, my sister had crazy ideas like that, too, and her son developed a pregnant girl friend and a messed-up life.

After a while, kissing no longer satisfies the natural drives and then the little darlings are compelled to think of something more exciting. How much a part of the gang do you think Junior will be when he has to quit high school to support a wife and child? And what kind of a complex will he have when he finds he has a man's job to do before he fully tastes the joys of boyhood?

Parents who think 14-year-old kissing is just innocent fun are crazy. Three cheers, two beers and a pretzel to you, Ann, for telling her so.

—UA VOCE ANO ANIMO

Dear Una: Thanks for the cheers. If you don't mind I'll pass up the beers and the pretzel.

Just one word to "Understanding Mother." Have a statistic: The average age for the unwed mother in this country is 15. This ought to clear your sinuses, Madame.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a high school senior whose problem is kids borrowing lunch money and forgetting to pay it back. This month I am short $3.

The world must have gotten around that I am a soft touch because all the kids seem to come to me when they need money. I'm not a fat cat, I don't drive a car, and my dad is no banker. I don't know why they think I'm loaded.

The same kids who owe me money buy candy bars and malted milks after school. They also seem to have money to buy gas for their cars. This makes me sore.

Please tell me if it is polite to remind people that they owe money? I hate to do it, but sometimes I think it's the only way I'll ever get my dough back.

—RED INK

Dear Red: Some kids DO forget, so a reminder is in order. But if they don't come through after one nudge, make a mental note that Soandso is a dead-beat and never loan him money again.

It's amazing that some boobs will sell their most valuable possession—a good reputation—for less than a dollar.

Girl Tells How Boy Friend Sacrificed His Life for Hers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"He was my first serious boy friend," said Paulette Lewis, 15. "We had been going steady one month and 12 days."

Then she began to cry.

Paulette told Monday, between tears, of the moment David Brimley sacrificed his life for hers as they walked, hand-in-hand, across an avenue near their homes.

Suddenly a car roared through a red light, glanced off another auto, and hurtled, brakes squealing, at Paulette and David.

"David shouted, 'Look out,' and he gave me a push," Paulette said. "I think he tried to run, but—when I recovered my balance, I couldn't see him."

David, 17, who had just gotten his first job and enrolled in his first college course, was hurled 150 feet to his death.

The careening car slid into a power pole and halted. Three young men jumped out and ran.

"I looked around," said Paulette, "and saw where the car had hit the pole down the street. I walked down there—" Again she cried "—and found him lying at the curb."

Police drove her home after the accident Sunday night. Her mother, Jean Lewis, called a doctor. He treated the pretty, blonde 10th grader with sedatives.

Police also went to tell David's mother, Lillian Armstrong, a few doors away.

She told a newsman later how her son had just enrolled as a math major at Santa Monica City College and had obtained a part-time job, his first, as a drugstore delivery boy.

"His first check, $20, was due today," she said.

The tragedy reached into other homes, too: into the homes of the divorced parents of Raymond Garcia, 17.

He walked into a police station Monday night, flanked by his father, Raymond Sr., and his mother, Rose Cueva. He told officers that it was his car which was in the accident. The auto had been abandoned at the scene.

He said he remembered hitting the other car but not the boy. He said he ran from the scene and spent most of the day hiding in an alley behind his mother's home, watching police come, looking for him. Finally he went in the house. His mother telephoned his father. They convinced him it was best to surrender.

He was booked on suspicion of manslaughter.

Mrs. Armstrong, the dead boy's mother, said she had no feelings against him.

"It has happened," she said. "David is gone. We can't undo it."

Mason Gives Views on Taxation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Noah M. Mason of Illinois told Congress today "we must tax the untaxed to relieve the burden of the overtaxed."

He asked for full taxation of savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, cooperatives, credit unions, rural electrification associations and government-owned business.

Mason, an Illinois Republican who was senior Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee when he retired from Congress last year, gave his views as the committee began hearing witnesses from the general public on tax legislation.

A vocal advocate of bigger cuts than President Kennedy has proposed, Mason is a self-styled "conservative missionary to the liberals in Congress." He said he intended to lobby for himself and individuals who thought like him.

In his prepared testimony, he called for a 45 per cent income tax ceiling and a general 5 per cent excise tax to replace present special excises.

Power Firm Asks Land Condemnation

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A suit has been filed in Peoria County Court by Central Illinois Light Co., asking for the condemnation of 560 acres of land for use as an underground facility for natural gas.

Defendants in the suit filed Monday are 11 property owners, including several money lending institutions.

The 560 acres are located north and west of the village of Glasford, about 17 miles southwest of Peoria.

Central Illinois was granted authorization in November by the Illinois Commerce Commission to construct underground storage facilities on 5,820 acres of land.

Smooching Power Told By Kissometer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A trio of Miami students have devised a machine that measures the smooching power generated by two people kissing. It's called the kissometer.

Its creators, including a bouncy 18-year-old brunette, are having a lot of fun with trial runs.

"It all depends on the sparkle inside you," said Tatiana Prilutchi, the only female in her electrical engineering class. "If you feel all tingling inside, your kiss will show it."

The kissometer is rigged with flashing lights and ringing bells. The lowest quality kiss flashes a sign that says, "Dead fish." A Casanova embrace will register "Wowee." The hottest smooching registers a "Woweee" and clangs a bell.

"The machine works on scientific principles," said Tatiana, of North Miami Beach. "The couple inside the booth hold an electrically charged probe in their hands. It sends a minute amount of electrical current though their bodies. When their lips meet, the circuit is completed."

The rest is up to the couple.

Probation Request Is Considered

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — A request for probation is being considered by two Galesburg youths who admitted trying to set fire to Temple Sholom, a Jewish place of worship.

The youths, aged 14 and 15, pleaded guilty Monday before Judge Gale Mathers of Knox County Circuit Court to charges of conspiracy to commit arson. Judge Mathers freed them on $5,000 bond each and referred their cases to county probation officer Lloyd Herbner.

Authorities said the boys admitted a series of acts of vandalism against the Jewish temple and other property owned by Jews.

Police arrested the boys, students at Lombard Junior High School and Corpus Christi High School, Tuesday night after a pipe was thrown through the window of Leibovitz Accounting Systems. The boys said earlier that night they tried unsuccessfully to commit arson at the temple.

The teen-agers said they had tried to start a Nazi party in Galesburg, but were unable to get anyone else to join.

Illinois, Ohio State Notch Big Ten Wins

Loyola Bounces Back To Defeat St. John's

By The Associated Press

This is supposed to be the time of the college basketball season when the conference races begin to unscramble and a clear-cut leader emerges. But in some of the leagues the standings remain just as jumbled today as they looked at the start of the campaign.

The Big Ten, the Big Eight and the Southeastern conferences all head into the homestretch with the outcome of their races still very much in doubt.

Ohio State, ranked fifth in the current Associated Press poll, and Illinois, No. 6, both won Monday night and stayed tied for first place in the Big Ten.

Eighth-ranked Mississippi State and Auburn, rated No. 9 nationally, posted Southeastern Conference victories and remained tied for the SEC lead.

Colorado, seventh in the listings a week ago but out of the Top Ten this week, lost to Missouri 60-58 Monday night, and not only lost first place in the tightly bunched Big Eight standings, but tumbled all the way to fourth.

Loyola Wins

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the only other member of the new Top Ten to see action, thrashed St. John's in New York 70-47 while rebounding from a 92-75 upset at the hands of Bowling Green Saturday.

Ohio State, behind Gary Bradds' 31 points, whipped Michigan State 87-77 for its 46th straight home court victory. Illinois, meanwhile, snapped a two-game losing streak and won at Purdue 87-79 as Bill Small collected 32 points.

The Buckeyes, now 16-3 over-all, and the Illini, who are 15-4, are tied for the Big Ten lead with 7-2 records with Minnesota and Indiana right behind.

Gophers Top Badgers

Minnesota, third with a 7-3 mark, turned back Wisconsin 72-48 at Minneapolis as Mel Northway led the way with 22 points. Indiana won on the road, edging Iowa 72-71 for its sixth triumph in nine league starts. Tom Bolyard's 29 points provided the spark.

Mississippi State, aiming for a third straight Southeastern Conference crown, posted an 86-75 verdict at Georgia and boosted its over-all record to 18-5. Auburn kept pace with a 63-61 squeaker at home over Tulane to boost its record to 17-2.

The victories gave both Mississippi State and Auburn 9-2 league records with idle Georgia Tech still in the running at 7-3. The champion automatically qualifies for the NCAA tournament but it is unlikely that Mississippi State would go because of the state's segregation policies.

Ray Bob Carey's lay-up with five seconds to play enabled host Missouri to gain its two-point decision over Colorado. Idle Oklahoma State took over first place in the Big Eight with 7-2, followed by Kansas State at 6-2 and Iowa State at 8-3. Colorado, fourth with a 7-3 record, bowed to Iowa State last week.

Accept Bids

Loyola of Chicago celebrated its acceptance of a Midwest at-large bid to the NCAA tournament Monday at the expense of St. John's. The Ramblers, whose only loss has been to Bowling Green, boast a 22-1 won-lost record.

Two other clubs who also accepted post-season tournament berths Monday justified their selections by winning. Miami of Florida, named to the NIT, over-whelmed Tampa 112-91 for its 20th victory in 24 starts. Texas Western, a midwest at-large entrant in the NCAA bracket, crushed West Texas State 84-42 and boosted its record to 16-5.

Bowling Green followed up its conquest of Loyola of Chicago with a 67-58 triumph at home over Notre Dame. The success was the Falcons' seventh in a row and gave veteran coach Harold Anderson the 500th win of his career.

Other Games

In other games: Northwestern nipped Michigan 63-62, Oklahoma downed Nebraska 84-77, Furman topped Virginia Tech 70-64, Alabama defeated LSU 75-71, Mississippi whipped Florida 72-63, Vanderbilt shaded Kentucky 69-67, New Mexico State trimmed Hardin Simmons 83-69 and Xavier of Ohio drubbed Villa Madonna 96-68.

Boston College won the Boston Beanpot Tournament with a 59-53 overtime victory over Northeastern and Boston University rolled over Tufts 71-52 in the consolation game.

Major Moves In Weekly College Poll

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati kept a strong hold on its position as the No. 1 college basketball team in the country today despite the upset which snapped its 37-game winning streak.

While the Bearcats were losing their first game since Jan. 10, 1962, to Wichita 65-64 last Saturday night, their closest pursuer for national honors, Loyola of Chicago, also was taking it on the chin. Loyola bowed to Bowling Green 92-75 for its first defeat of the season.

As a result of these developments, The Associated Press' special panel of sports writers and broadcasters decided Cincinnati still should be rated the nation's best team but that Loyola, loser by 17 points, couldn't be figured better than third, behind Duke, which racked up a couple of one-sided victories.

Cincinnati, gunning for its third straight National Collegiate Athletic Association championship, drew 34 of the 42 first-place votes. The other eight went to Duke.

The weekly Top Ten underwent considerable juggling as the result of the rash of upsets. Arizona State moved up into fourth place.

Newcomers to the poll on victories last week are Wichita, Auburn and NYU, in 7th, 9th and 10th places, respectively. They replaced No. 7 Colorado, beaten by Iowa State 73-60; No. 8 Stanford, which lost to California 61-60, and No. 10 Georgia Tech, beaten by Louisville 78-73.

The biggest leap was made by Ohio State, which climbed from ninth to fifth on a 75-68 triumph over Michigan. Illinois surprisingly dropped only two rungs despite losses to Wisconsin and Indiana. Mississippi State also fell a couple of notches after losing to Florida 73-52.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Cincinnati (34)	402
2. Duke (8)	321
3. Loyola of Chicago	280
4. Arizona State	212
5. Ohio State	156
6. Illinois	138
7. Wichita	124
8. Mississippi State	85
9. Auburn	82
10. New York University	80

Streator Takes 16th Spot

Centralia Leads Prep Poll for Third Week

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Rockford Auburn moved up to a challenging position Monday but could not shake Centralia and Collinsville from their one-two rankings in the Associated Press poll of Illinois prep basketball teams.

For the third straight week, Centralia was the undisputed leader with 249 of a possible 256 poll points and Collinsville again had to settle for runnerup with 237 points.

Rockford Auburn, which has won its last nine games, jumped into third place as Chicago Heights Bloom fell to eighth after being surprised last week by Kankakee.

Quincy, East Moline and Chicago St. Patrick scored gains in the standings.

Defeats suffered by Lockport and New Trier last week cost them their berths in the ratings. Their replacements were Rock Island and Streator.

The top 16 teams with won-lost records and poll points:

Tiger Favored For Title Bout With Fullmer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An air of quiet confidence surrounds Gene Fullmer's camp as he enters the final two days of training for his middleweight title fight with Dick Tiger.

The brawling Fullmer knocked out sparring partner Ed Hickman in the first round of a training stint Monday. The Los Angeles boxer remained unconscious for five minutes before trainers revived him.

"It felt like a mule hit me," the stunned Hickman said later.

The former middleweight champion's strong showing in training has lowered the odds to 3-1 in Tiger's favor. They opened at 4-1.

Oddsmakers believe the price will drop to below 2-1 at fight time Saturday.

Bucyk Regains Hold on NHL Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Johnny Bucyk of Boston regained sole leadership in the National Hockey League scoring race last week, but look out—Bobby Hull of Chicago is on another late season scoring streak.

Weekly league statistics, released today, show Bucyk on top with 59 points, one ahead of Frank Mahovlich of Toronto, Gordie Howe of Detroit, Murray Oliver of Boston and Jean Beliveau of Montreal who are in a 4-way tie for second at 58.

Right behind them at 56 is Hull who is going at a faster clip than any in recent weeks. He scored 12 goals and five assists in his last 8 games, a pattern similar to his belated surge last season that carried to a record-equalling 50 goals.

Dixon Bowler Sets Sterling Season High

STERLING—Ed Worley of Dixon established a new season high series record last week in the Classic League at Blackhawk Lanes in Sterling. Worley rolled games of 205, 233 and 245 for a 682 total. Worley currently leads the Sterling league with a 191.11 season average.

Worley bowls on the Dixon Boynton Richards team now in second place in the Classic League.

UCIA Gives Barnes a Two-Year Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—UCLA is giving football coach Bill Barnes a two-year contract and a raise.

The Bruins switched from the single to the T formation last season and university regents decided Barnes should be assured he would have more than just another season to work in the new system.

Terms of the new contract were not announced Monday.

The Bruins had a 4-6 record last season.

Player Still Tops Golf's Cash Winners

He is closely trailed by Arnold Palmer, who has played in five tournaments and won two for $17,100.

Jack Nicklaus holds a firm third spot with $13,865, according to figures released by the Professional Golfers' Association Monday.

Loyola to NCAA Regional

11 Teams Accept Tournament Bids

By The Associated Press

The fields for the two major post-season college basketball tournaments began taking shape today with 11 teams accepting bids to compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship and the National Invitation Tournament.

Eight schools were named for at-large berths Monday in the 25-team NCAA field while three acceptances were received for the 12-team NIT at New York's Madison Square Garden.

The NCAA entrants include Loyola of Chicago and New York University, both ranked among the nation's Top Ten in this week's Associated Press poll.

Loyola, ranked No. 3 with a 22-1 record, will play a first round game in the Mideast regionals. Tenth-ranked NYU, 13-2, is an at-large selection in the East regionals.

Colorado State University, 16-4; Texas Western, 16-5 and Oklahoma City, 15-7, were chosen for the Midwest Regionals. Seattle, 17-4; Oregon State, 14-6 and Utah State, 19-5, will take part in the Far West regionals.

The three teams accepting NIT bids were Miami of Florida, 20-4; Providence, 15-4 and Canisius, 14-4. The tournament will be held March 14-23.

Only three at-large positions remain to be filled in the NCAA bracket, two from the East and the other from the Mideast. One of the Eastern representatives will be the Ivy League champion. Fourteen other conference champions automatically qualify for the tourney.

The open round regional eliminations get underway at various sites around the country March 9 and March 11. Winners advance to the regional finals at College Park, Md., East Lansing, Mich., Lawrence, Kan., and Provo, Utah. The semi-finals and the finals of the NCAA championships will be held at Freedom Hall in Louisville, March 22-23.

Reid Named Top Manager at Rockford Meet

This is the third straight year Reid has been named for the honor. Reid will manage the Rockford entry in the Chicago Tournament of Champions, Feb. 25.

Charles Finn, also of Dixon, is a member of the team managed by Reid. Finn, boxing in the 147-pound novice division, is entered in the semi-finals of the Rockford tournament Wednesday. Finn won his first match last Thursday to gain entry in the semis.

Cincinnati Reds Sign Jay to 1963 Contract

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Reds didn't waste any time dickering with Joey Jay this winter.

The big right-hander held out a year ago after his 21-10 record helped win the National League baseball pennant for Cincinnati in 1961. He didn't sign until after the start of spring training and although he again won 21 games, the Reds finished third.

Everything was lovey-dovey when Bill DeWitt, president and general manager, announced Jay's 1963 signing Monday. Contract terms were not disclosed but DeWitt said Jay had been given a "very substantial raise."

Jay echoed: "That's about it. It was a nice raise."

What is a nice raise? Guesses ranged up to $35,000 compared to the estimated $25,000 the former Milwaukee hurler received in 1962. He was traded by the Braves to the Reds after the 1960 season.

A couple of other right-handers signed for less money Monday as the official opening of spring training drew closer.

Chuck Estrada, who won 18 games for Baltimore in 1960 when the Orioles finished second in the American League, but slumped to 15 in 1961 and only 9 last year, signed for an estimated $16,000, a cut of about $3,000.

Larry Sherry, strictly a relief pitcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers last season, signed for a reported $22,000, off $2,000. It was indicated, however, that if Sherry makes good as a starter, he would receive a new contract.

Hughes Takes Lead in Annual ABC Tourney

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Hughes of Baltimore, Md., was gunning for a double in his last frame in the regular-division singles competition at the 60th annual American Bowling Congress Tournament. He got it, and as a result he held the lead today with 674 three-game series.

The other new leaders as a result of Monday's action were:

Dick Ward of Carey, Ohio, who had nine strikes in a final game of 245 for a nine-game total of 1860 in the regular-division all-events competition.

Hughes, a 29-year-old draftsman, was only three pins ahead of runner-up John Osowick of Port Jervis, N.Y., who rolled a 671 series earlier in the day.

Sunday's leader, Bill Stanfield of Grand Rapids, Mich., fell to third place with his 662.

NINE-DAY GOVERNOR

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Gov. George Nigh held office for only nine days but that didn't prevent him from also moving into the governor's mansion.

The bachelor governor, a Democrat who moved up from lieutenant governor when J. Howard Edmondson resigned to become a U.S. senator, opened the mansion for the first time to public viewing and also had several young relatives stay overnight during the only weekend he lived there.

Nigh personally telephoned the Associated Press to estimate the number of visitors for the open house —20,000.

Nigh was succeeded by Gov. Henry Bellmon, first Republican ever elected chief executive in Oklahoma.

Confab Illustrates Paradox, Determination, Uncertainty

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's conference Monday night with congressional leaders on communism in Latin America apparently settled nothing. But it illustrated a determination, a paradox and an unpleasant future.

There is a general determination in this country to strangle communism in Cuba, if possible without getting into war with Russia, but certainly to prevent its spread from Cuba to other Latin American nations.

As part of the Western Hemisphere they are the United States' backyard. This country wants no hostile ideology like communism establishing itself so close to home, and for obvious reasons.

In time it could provide a Soviet military base as it did in Cuba—which would be the reverse of the American military bases on other continents around the Communist perimeter—and gradually subvert the southern continent.

Has Ability

One reason the American determination is so stern against permitting a Red foothold in Latin America is the fact that this country, because of its tremendous military power, has the ability to stop it.

After their meeting with Kennedy the congressional leaders were vague in answering newsmen's questions about the briefing they got. One Democrat said it was just a general intelligence roundup on Cuba.

Another said "things looked a little better." A Republican said he thought the President was just trying to pacify some of his Republican critics. If that's all it was, the dispute will go on.

But the paradox remains.

The United States is doing to communism what it doesn't want communism to do to the United States: It is in communism's backyard.

Two Examples

There are two vivid examples: Formosa and South Viet Nam.

The United States has troops in Viet Nam helping the people there fight Communist guerrillas. But South Viet Nam is in Asia and all Asia is Red China's backyard.

On the island of Formosa, which the Red Chinese claim as part of China, the United States is helping protect Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists from Red attack.

At the moment the Communist Chinese are not bombarding Formosa. And they are not taking a direct part in the Vietnamese fighting. Their reasons for abstinence in both cases are practical and obvious.

The United States at this time has too much power for them to risk a war. When they're stronger, particularly when they get their own nuclear weapons, they undoubtedly will try their luck.

There's good reason for thinking so. They're the ones who preach against peaceful coexistence. No one can argue plausibly, against their record and expressed philosophy, that they won't try to take all Asia when they feel up to it.

U.S. Angry

In the meantime, while the United States is angry about the penetration of communism in the Western Hemisphere, it can be taken for granted the Red Chinese are seething about the American pressures and presence in Asia.

The best hope for avoidance of an eventual showdown with Red China is a split between the Chinese and Russian Communists. Then, even with nuclear weapons, Red China might be reluctant to get into war.

The United States has not been without such reluctance, either. It wanted independence for the European satellites of Russia. The Hungarians in 1956 obtained their independence by throwing out the Communists. But when the Russians moved in to crush them this country didn't go to their help.

So at best this is simply an interim period whose comparative calmness can hardly last. But there is a new element in the cold war against communism.

Until now the United States had kept it within bounds. Now it has penetrated this hemisphere. There is tremendous American excitement and indignation when the shoe is put on the other foot.

Because of this it will be no wonder if the Russians, at least, try to make a deal—some kind of promise to lay off this hemisphere if the United States will pull back some of the ring of steel it has around the Communist world and, as in Asia, inside it.

Jobs in State Drop 92,700

CHICAGO (AP)—The number of jobs in Illinois industry and business has shown a drop of 92,700 in the first month of the new year.

Robert R. Donnelly, state director of labor, reported Monday that jobs outside agriculture dipped from 3,627,200 in December to 3,534,500 in January.

He said the decline was caused by normal seasonal factors.

He also reported that the number of jobs in the state in January—although under the December total—was 91,000 above the figure for January 1962.

Tax Recovery Suit Continued

CHICAGO (AP)—A hearing on the Burlington Lines tax recovery suit—key action in a situation involving millions of dollars—has been continued to Feb. 28.

The suit in Cook County Court is serving as a test for 30 railroads which hope to recover about half the taxes they have paid in recent years—a refund that would add up to $30 million or more.

The Illinois Supreme Court decided in 1961 that rail lines should not be assessed at higher rates than other interests. Railroads contend they are assessed at full value, while other property is assessed at about half value.

The impending hearing covers only Burlington property in Cook County. The railroads have adopted a county-by-county pattern of suits to recover tax money.

In the fiscal year 1962, the Denver and Philadelphia mints turned out a record 3,400,000,000 coins, twice the number produced in fiscal 1959. Production is expected to be the same as '62 in 1963.

During 1962, steelmaking furnaces of the U.S. poured 98,329,900 net tons of ingots and steel for castings.

Slaying Is Murder, Suicide

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—The McDonough County coroner has termed the slaying of a mother and her two young children as murder and suicide.

Coroner Roy Louderman said Mrs. Patricia Huffman shot her children, Donald, 7, and Soni Lynn, 5½, as they slept Monday night, then turned the 12 guage shotgun on herself.

The three bodies were discovered by Mrs. Huffman's husband when he returned home late Monday night.

Louderman said an inquest will be held.
